

Introduction & Syllabus

ECON 5001
Prof. Healy

Updated 2026-08-12 at 13:38:06

Welcome to ECON 5001 - Game Theory

T/Th 9:35–10:55am Jennings 355

Prof. Paul J. Healy

Optional: If you want a paper syllabus, come get it now.

Who Am I?

Professor Paul J. Healy

- Hometown(s): Centerville, OH & Zionsville, IN
- B.S.: Purdue '00
- PhD: Caltech '05
- First job: Carnegie Mellon b-school
- OSU since: 2007
- Research areas:
 - Game theory!
 - Experimental/behavioral economics & game theory
 - Mechanism design (part of game theory)
 - Public goods
 - Decision theory
 - Methodology
- Teaching:
 - Previously: Intermediate Micro, ExpEcon, PhD game theory
 - First time teaching 5001!

Syllabus Highlights

- Everything is on Carmen/Canvas, including the syllabus
 - Let me know if you don't have access!
- Main Textbook: Game Theory by Giacomo Bonanno
 - Free online at
https://faculty.econ.ucdavis.edu/bonanno/GT_Book.html
 - Also on Carmen, under “Files”
- Other materials on Carmen as well
- Attendance: not strictly required, but in-class quizzes/activities
- Office Hours: Tue 11:00-12:00 in Bricker 270
- How you're evaluated:
 1. 2 Exams (25% each)
 2. In-Class Quizzes
 3. Participation: Games (in class), Tutorials (home)
- Final letter grades are curved